Why choose our FREE* distance learning courses?

Our portfolio of nationally-recognised qualifications are designed to be flexible. They can start at any time and, as there's no need to attend college, your staff can learn in their own time at a pace that suits them.

These short distance learning courses can be completed online and take around 4-12 weeks to complete. We'll provide high quality support materials that will be yours to keep.

Your staff will receive support and guidance from a dedicated team of qualified assessors/tutors. What's more, your staff will receive a nationally recognised qualification.

And the courses are currently supported by government funding, so there's no cost to you or your staff*.
